

Males and Females in Social Science, Education, Government and Religion*

as a percentage of the total labour force

* Occupations in this broad category are primarily concerned with law, teaching, counselling, conducting social science research, providing religious services and developing and administering government policies and programs.